File No. 89-06

SUBJECT.

Re the printing of the ancient history of the Hoisaleswara temple at Halebid, Belur Taluk, prepared by Sivananje Gowda of Halebid.

From

The Officer in charge of the Archæological Researches in Mysore.

Letter No. 195, Dated 28th May 1907.

One Sivananje Gowda, Patel of the Halebid village, Belur Taluk, presented on petition to the Deputy Commissioner of the Hassan District a petition and also a manuscript book detailing the ancient history of the famous Hoisaleswara temple at Halebid prepared by him and prayed that it might be ordered to be printed at Government cost. The Deputy Commissioner recommended that a reference might be made to the Officer in charge of the Archæological Researches as to whether the compilation threw any new light on the history of that institution. The Deputy Commissioner was himself of opinion that it was desirable that the manuscript printed, so that it might be made available for purchase by those visiting the Halebid temple. He also suggested that if the great interest and trouble taken by Sivarame Gowda in the preparation of the book be appreciated, he might be granted an honorarium for it.

The Officer in charge of the Archæological Researches was thereupon requested to report whether the book threw any new light on the ancient history of the temple and whether it was worthy of being printed at Govt. cost. He now reports that the book ~~consists of two parts~~ is divided into 2 parts — the 1st part giving an account of the Hoysala Kings from the earliest times and the 2nd part containing a detailed description of the sculptures of the Hoysaleswara temple. He further says that the genealogy and chronology of the Hoysala Dynasty, though pretty correct for the most part, do not exactly coincide with those given in Mr. Rice's publications and that some interesting stories based on tradition about certain kings of the dynasty and a few legends about certain localities near Halebid are included in the part. The sculptures of the temple are described in detail in the &c. ^ part with Puranic stories where necessary in explanation of the postures of the numerous images. The concluding portion gives a brief account of the sculptures of the 3 Jain temples at Halebid.

The Officer in charge of the Archæological Researches in conclusion expresses the opinion that the book is written in simple language, and that the author has taken much pains and deserves encouragement, and that if the book is printed with a few alterations, the work will, no doubt, serve as a very good guide-book to the visitors to the Halebid temples.

Sir,

I have the honor to submit herewith a petition presented to me by Sivanaya Patél of Halebedu village, Belur Taluk, together with a manuscript book detailing the ancient history of the famous Hoisaleshwara temple of Halébedu prepared by the petitioner. The petitioner prays that it may be ordered to be printed at Government Cost.

2. A reference may be made the officers in charge of the Archeological researches who may be in a position to state whether the enclosed Compilation throws any new light on the History of this ancient institution. At any rate it seems desirable to get the manuscript printed so that it may be made available for purchase by those visiting the Hall of the temple.

3. The petitioner appears to have taken great interest and trouble in this work and if his efforts in this connection be appreciated I would suggest that he be granted an honorarium for his work

In returning herewith the manuscript book, received with your letter No. 3276 dated 24th December 1906, I have the honour to state that the book is divided into two parts — the first part (pp 1-55) giving an account of the Hoysala Kings from the earliest times and the second part (pp 56-208) containing a detailed description of the sculptures of the Hoysaleswara temple at Halebid The geneology and chronology of the Hoysala Dynasty, though pretty correct for the most part, do not exactly coincide with those given in Mr. Rice's publications. Some interesting stories based on tradition about certain Kings of the dynasty and a few legends about certain localities near Halebid are also included in the first part. The sculptures of the Hoysalesvara temple are described in detail in the second part with Puranic stories, where necessary, in explanation of the posture &c of the numerous images. The concluding portion of the book gives a brief account of the sculptures contained in the three Jain temples at Halebid.

2. The book is written in simple language and the author who has taken much pains in writing it deserves encouragement. If printed with a few alterations, the work will no doubt serve as a very good guide-book to visitors to the Halebid temples.

Letter No 417, dated 29th November 1906, from the Deputy Commissioner, Hassan District, submitting a petition and a manuscript book presented by Sivananje Gowda, detailing the ancient history of the Hoisaleswara temple at Halebid, Belur Taluk.

Letter no 195, dated 25th May 1907, from the Officer in charge of the Archaeological Researches in Mysore.

Order thereon :—

One Sivananje Gowda, Patel of the Halebid village, Belur Taluk, presented to the Deputy Commissioner of the Hasan District a petition

No. 1554-95/21.9.07
Exd. 23.9.07

and a manuscript book compiled by him detailing the history of the famous Hoisaleswara temple at Halebid, an institution of Architectural importance and prayed that the book might be printed at Govt cost The Deputy Commissioner recommended that a reference might be made to the Officer in charge of the Archæological Researches in Mysore, as to whether the compilation threw any new light on the history of that Institution and if so, the same might be printed and made available for purchase by those visiting the temple He further suggested that of the great interest and trouble taken by Swamaya Gowda in the preparation of the compilation be appreciated, he might be granted an honorarium for it.

2 The Officer in charge of the Archaeological Researches, who was thereupon consulted in the matter, reports that the genealogy and chronology of the Hoisala Dynasty as given in the book in question are for the most part pretty correct, though they slightly differ from those given in Mr. Rice's publications that the author has taken great pains and written the book in simple language and deserves encouragement, and also ~~strongly~~ states that if the book is printed with a few alterations, the work will no doubt serve as a very good guide book to the visitors to the Halebid temple

3. Under the foregoing circs the Govt are pleased to direct that 250 copies of the Kanarese

SIR,

With reference to your docket No 1644, dated 31st December 1909, enquiring why only 243 copies of History of Malabar by Patel Sivarama Gowda was supplied instead of 250, I have the honor to state, that as some of the forms printed were destroyed by white-ants, it was not possible to comply with the full requisition.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
